Once upon a time there was a King named King Latium. And

King Latium had a sister named Rhea Silvia and Rhea Silvia had two children named Romulus and Remus. But one dark gloomy King Latium discovered a terrible site his nephews might take over the throne . So he told one of his servants to drown the baby boys in the Tiber river. But the servant could not find it in his heart to drown the baby boys . So he placed them in a basket and set them down the Tiber river.

Luckily the boys did not drown they floated to shore and a she wolf found them .So she dragged them to her cave and gave them milk. Then the she wolf saw a shepherd and went to him . When the Shepard saw the she wolf he rose his stick to try to scare the she wolf away but the she wolf did not want a sheep instead she pulled out the basket out of her cave and placed the basket in front of the shepherd then ran off.the shepherd looked in sided the basket and saw the beautiful baby boys.

When the boys were 18 they decided to build a city . And that's when the trouble began. Romulus and Remus could not decide which hill to build it on. So they decided to have a contest to see who could build the biggest and the strongest wall in history. But one day Remus went to look at how his brother was doing but instead of telling his wall was doing well he made fun of his brothers wall.He wanted to make his brother so mad that he stepped over his wall and said your wall will not keep out any body out of your city finely Romulus got so mad that he killed his brother . He never meant for this to happen. So he just kept making his city and he named it Rome after him self . So now you know the story of Romulus and Remus
